

SOCIETY

Season Reaches Brilliant Climax

MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE.

With so short a span yet to run before the observance of Lent places a quietus on social affairs, the season is keyed to an extraordinary pitch, and so strong will be the impetus that festivities must of necessity be carried beyond the three allotted days and encroach upon penitential solemnity. Time was when midnight of Shrove Tuesday struck the hour of social abstinence, but that was not at the climax of a busy season which had suffered many set-backs from one cause or another. The Hunt ball and the Mardi Gras dance have claimed the only two remaining available evenings and there are certain smaller functions pledged to observance which have been forced to postpone their appearance until the Lenten quiet provides a clear field.

Last week, which promised little in the way of brilliance, recouped its fortunes gracefully and went out in a blaze of glory. The White House social program was resumed and the President and Mrs. Wilson entertained for the Speaker of the House at the last state dinner of the season. On Thursday evening they dined with the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Lane—from which it may be deduced that official festivities will not suffer an interruption, after all. The Speaker's dinner was almost simultaneous with the debut into this world of Champ Clark Thompson, the new young grandson of the distinguished statesman. On Wednesday morning Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Marshall, and the ladies of the Cabinet were feted at the Dolly Madison breakfast—a particularly interesting annual function which has come to fill an important place in official gaieties. Mrs. Wilson was again the honor guest at a breakfast on Friday morning when the Congressional Club entertained for her at Rauscher's.

What with the Hawaiian ball given by Mrs. Howard Hume, Miss Ruth Hitchcock, and Miss Margaret McChord; the Reeside dance at the Congressional Club; the formal hop at Washington Barracks; the Diet Kitchen ball at Rauscher's; the Valentine dance of the Southern Society, and a host of diplomatic and official dinners, last week's social pace was breath-taking. And no resume of the events of the past few days would be complete without a word about the Noel House benefit for which Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley loaned their Dupont circle residence. The great hall, hung with rare and costly draperies and decorated with ancient armor and appropriate objet d'art, seemed specially designed for the presentation of "Joan the Woman"—the dramatic military film that links the trenches "somewhere in France" with a new and appealing story of the courageous Maid of Orleans.

The Spanish Ambassador and Mrs. Riano entertained at dinner last evening for the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing.

Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall was the guest of honor at a beautifully appointed luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh. The decorations were of white lilacs, roses, and other spring flowers. Invited to meet Mrs. Marshall were Mrs. Bryn, Mrs. James B. Alesha, Mrs. George Barnett, Mrs. Montgomery Blair, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. John Davis, Miss Mary Gwynne, Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. Frederic Atherton, Mrs. Hemmick, Mrs. Richard Harlow, Mrs. J. Borden Harrison, Mrs. Henry P. McCain, Mrs. Jewell, Mrs. George P. McLean, Miss Heloise Meyer, Miss Josephine Patten, Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. Henry Cleveland Perkins, Mrs. C. R. Sheppard, Mrs. Claude Swanson, Miss Thomas, Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell, Mrs. Axel Withfield, Mrs. William King, Mrs. Hawes, Mrs. Hauge, Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Chaplin, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Mrs. Dolores Biddgett, Miss Katherine Hill, Miss van Rappard, Mrs. Julian James, Mrs. Charles J. Bell, Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Mrs. John E. Henderson, and Mrs. Inches, of Cambridge, Mass.

The guests will attend the ball in costumes, and many features in connection with the Mardi Gras celebration will be introduced. During the intermission the tableaux scene, "The Birth of the American Flag," will be enacted by Mrs. Andrew H. Plant, Mrs. Maud Howell Smith, and Mrs. George S. Covington.

Mrs. Bottorff is a native of the city of Louisville, Ky., where Gen. George Rogers Clark lies buried in Cave Hill Cemetery, with only a simple headstone to mark the grave. Many efforts have been made to raise funds to erect a suitable monument to the memory of the man who conquered so much territory for the United States, but all these efforts have failed. TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft, and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure. Adv.
